CALL ON PRESIDENT FOR LEGAL ACTION.

Coal Operators Allege Conspiracy on Part of the Mine Workers-Conferences Bring no Settlement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—David Wilcox, vice-president and general counsel for the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company, and one of those present at the recent confeence called by the President at Washington, has sent to the President a letter demanding that the Federal government proceed against the miners' organisation in the courts, on the ground that it is a conspiracy to prevent interstate commerce. Wilcox, it is said on authority, represents all the coal operators in this action, and was selected as their spokesman. The letter was made public in this city together with a letter written several months ago to the President along the same lines. The letter follows:

NEW YORK, Oct. 8, 1902.

To the President of the United States. Sir: Upon June 8 last, I had the honor to address a letter to yourself, calling attention to the character of the United Mine Workers of America. The Illegality of that organization is fully established by the authorities to which since been again condemned by the Circuit Courts of the United States (United States vx. Weber, 114 Fed. Rep. 250; United States vx. Weber, 114 Fed. Rep. 250; United States vx. Haggerty, 116 Fed. Rep. 516.) In the Weber case, too, the court says: "It is hardly open to serious question that the ultimate purpose of the union is not legal."

Some question has, however, been made whether the national government has power to take action against if on that account, and therefore I desire to respectfully submit some considerations which seem to establish that it has such power.

The statute of July 2, 1890, generally known as the Sherman Act, provides that "Every contract, combination in the form of a trust or otherwise, or conspiracy in restraint of trade or commerce among the several States or with foreign nations is hereby declared to be illegal."

Commerce between the States begins when the subjects thereof begin to move to the place of destination and ends when they are sold. The question, therefore, is whether the mine, workers' combination constitutes a restraint upon such commerce. The view that it does not is based upon the contention that this combination affects only production of coal within the State, and not shipments of coal from one State to another. It is submitted that this interstate commerce, but absolutely destroys it.

Can it be seriously claimed that while a combination which restrains shipments out of the State would be illegal, one which absolutely prevents them would not? Manifestly, the greateg includes the less, and a combination which directly and immediately destroys interstate commerce by preventing the existence of its subject matter is quite as illegal as one which merely restrains the shipment of such matter out of the State. Otherwise, a combination which restrained interstate commerce would be unlawful, while one which destroyed it would be beyond the reach of the law.

NATIONAL JURISDICTION.

It is submitted that the national jurisdiction is subject to no such limitation. It seems very clear, therefore, that a suit would lie against the members of the United Mine Workers' Association as a combination in restraint of interstate commerce within the act of June 2, 1890, and that a preliminary injunction would be granted which could be enforced by all the power of the national government. This precise course was followed in the Debs case, and was supported by the courts, not merely on account of interference with the mails, but also on the ground of restraint of shipments from one State to another (64 Fed. Rep., 724.) It is submitted that this course would be proper in the present case. It would destroy the illegal combination to which the present strike is due. The Delaware and Hudson Company, therefore, most carnestly requests that proper action be taken under the aforesaid statute.

Very respectfully, [Signed] either for State or interstate shipments. Its direct and necessary effect is that no coal shall be shipped anywhere within the country unless it so permits. This combination, therefore, not merely restrains, but destroys interstate commerce by preventing the existence of the subject matter of such commerce of general public interest and importance. No more effective or radical restraint of interstate commerce could be imagined.

The Delaware and Hudson Company

Very respectfully, could be imagined.

The Delaware and Hudson Company was chartered in the State of New York on April 22, 1823, for the purpose, as expressed in its charter, of furnishing to the State of New York a supply of coal found in the State of Pennsylvania. As the result of the mine workers' organization, this interstate commerce of this corporation has for the time being been in great part destroyed. Obviously, a combination which has this direct effect upon an established interstate business is in every sense a restraint thereon.

Accordingly, since the Knight case. NEW YORK, Oct. 10.-Efforts to se NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Efforts to settle the anthracite coal strike by conferences between leading politicians and the coal operators in this city have so far proved in vain. Senators Platt, Quay and Penrose, and Gov. Odell of New York today again met the representatives of the coal interests in a lengthy conference, which adjourned this afternoon, leaving the situation practically unchanged.

destroyed. Obviously, a combination which has this direct effect upon an established interstate business is in every sense a restraint thereon.

Accordingly, since the Knight case, it has been settled that combinations which have the effect of restraining shipments out of the State are within the prohibition of the statute. In the Addiston Pipe Company vs. United State (175, U.S., 211.) there was a combination of manufacturers within certain States, which restrained shipments by the parties out of their respective States in competition with each other; the court said (p. 280). "The direct and immediate results of the combination was, therefore, necessarily a restraint upon State commerce, in respect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties to it, to be transported by spect of articles manufactured by any of the parties of the consumers, in restraint upon State commerce, in respect to the parties of the consumers of hination of all the miners of coal with-in a certain territory to sell all their product to one corporation, and the product was in the natural course of business shipped to other States. Both of these combinations were held un-lawful, for the reason that they re-strained the movement of the prod-ucts of manufacture out of the State.

representatives to meet the Senators and Gov. Odel at Senator Platt's office. Thomas and Baer were selected, and went to receive the propositions of the Senators, or whatever suggestions they had to offer.

While the representatives were at Senator Platt's office, the railroad presidents remained in session at Thomas's office. After an extended consultation between the Senators and Messra. Thomas and Baer, for the operators, the two presidents returned to Thomas's office, and after some further conference the statement appearing above was given out by Ms. Thomas, and it was said this was all the operators had to say at the present time.

Mitchell then went to the telephone and had a long talk with some one. When asked if he would return to this city next Tuesday to attend the next meeting of the conference, he said he did not know, but that it was his intention to settly now to provide the conference. NO POLITICS IN IT.

A number of the leading coal road presidents firmly declined to recognize the assertion that politics could in any way enter into a possible strike setway enter into a possible strike settlement. The operators assured the political representatives that they regarded the dispute as embodying questions solely and entirely between themselves and their employes and in the business management of their properties. These statements were elicited by the assertion from the other side that a continuance of the strike for two weeks would imperil the success of the Republican party in the two great States of Pennsylvania and New York. They said that with the advent of cool weather, accompanied by a coal famine, the strike would assume an importance that would overshadow the polls. The operators, however, were not moved by this presentation, and reiterated that politics could not enter into their business.

erated that politics could not enter into their business.

Folowing this statement of their position by the coal men, the politicians intimated very broadly that a prolongation of the struggle would pave the way to legislation hurtful to coal-operation interests. In fact, according the coal operation present, this o one of the coaloperators present, this atter statement was made in terms so broad that they regarded it as a threat. Their reply was a restatement of their unaiterable determination to stand their ground as at first outlined to the conference, trusting to the in-tegrity of the judicial system to protect them from adverse legislation. Senator Platt was quoted as saying, before the conference, that they ex-pected to meet the operators again to-

A resolution was adopted that let down the bars too much to suit some of the State delegations with a large membership in the order. This caused ill-feeling. Later the

These chipments will increase every week, and I am confident that prices will be about normal before December I. Retail prices of meat in Omaha and Kansas City have already dropped materially. High prices are maintained in the East largely by the fact that customers have got into the hubit of paying them, but this will not last long."

Many persons fail to take so optimistic a view of the beef outlook as the Secretary. They point to the failure of the Australias sheep supplies, owing to drought, as evidence that the British demand for meat will be unusually heavy. This would tend to keep up American prices.

President Maroquin's amnesty decree were liberal.

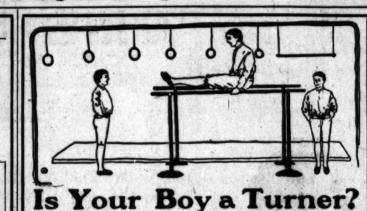

His only idea in conferring with the authorities here was to end the struggle which he considers unpatriotic, for it not only ruins the country, but delays the steps being taken looking to the completion of the canal. He did not see from the arguments he had heard that there was much difference in the principles upheld by either of the Colombian parties except in matters relative to the church.

Admiral Cassy is studying the terms which the government offered, and in a mander, expressing his views on the situation, and will propose that the general hold a conference with Gen. Salazar, the government commander. Admiral Casey received last Saturday Gen. Herrera's reply to Commander McLean's communication notifying the general that the United States had assumed control of the isthmus, but he would not divulge the contents of the letter. According to rumor, Herrera's note is couched in very strong and offensive language.

Regarding his refusal to allow the Colombian government to transport troops on the railroad, the admiral said the United States had taken this action in order to maintain free transit. He knew Gen. Herrera would not dare to interfere with trains flying the American flag, but he thought that if the government was permitted to transport troops or war material along the line it would be provoking to the revolutionists, and might cause interruption to traffic. It is reported that the Liberals to the number of 800 or 1000 have a camp back of Empire station, and it is claimed in behalf of Admiral Casey that if the government reinforcements are very desirous of reaching Panama, they can reach here from Colon. It is not known how long the United States forces will prevent the government from using trains to transport troops, but it is admitted that Admiral Casey will not allow Gen. Herrera to bombard Panama, and it is asserted that if the revolutionary gunboat Padillia comes within a limit assigned by the American admiral, the latter will sink her. On the other hand, he will not permit the government gunboats to provoke the Padilla into venturing within the limit referred to.

OAKLAND, Oct. 16.—Lee Johnson Perreau, the sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Perreau, of No. 540 Twenty-third street, died this morning at the home of his parents from the effect of a nail that he had swallowed about three weeks ago. Although the metal had been in his system and was causing him the most excruciating pain, the boy neglected to tell his parents of what he had done until last night, when the physicians had despaired of his life.

Crushes Their Heads With an Ax-O'der Brother Overpowers Lunatic.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Oct. 10.—While laboring under mental aberration, the result of the strain of perfecting an appliance for patents on an air brake which are pending in Washington, Charles Cawley, 17 years old, of Homestead, Pa, early today killed his mother and one sister and fatally injured four other children. He also tried to kill his two older brothers, but was detected, overpowered and turned over to the police. The weapon used was an ax, with which he crushed and hacked his victims hereoff recognition. ADELINE, aged 6, skull fractured.

RAYMOND, aged 6, twin of Adeline; head horribly injured.

AGNES, aged 10, head crushed.

The Cawleys lived in a neat six-room house in Homestead. Last night all the members retired about 10 o'clook. Mrs. Cawley and Belle occupied one bed, while Josephine, Adeline, Raymond and Agnes occupied other beds and cribs in the same room. Charles, the murderer; his brothers, James, aged 20, and Harry, aged 14, occupied the front room, second floor, adjoining their mother's room.

About 3 o'clook this morning Charles quietly arose and dressing himself, but not putting on his shoes, crept down to the cellar and secured an ax. Coming upstairs, he went into his mother's room, where the victims were all sleepings. After turning up the light the maniac approached his mother's bedside, swung the ax high in the air and brought it down with such force that the skull was crushed. The mother evidently never knew what struck her, but the crazed son, thinking that his first blow did not do its work, pounded the dead mother's head almost to a jelly.

Belle, the oldest daughter, slept throughout the time. The dull sound of the ax on her mother's head did not arouse her. Charles hurried to her side of the bed and struck her with the ax. It is thought that the first blow slipped and awoke the girl, but the next blow killed her.

The flend then struck each of the smaller children over the head with the bloody weapon.

Believing that he had dispatched them all, Cawley started for his brother's room, but James, the eldest, had been awakened by the groans in his mother's room, and as Charles entered he selzed a heavy rocking-chair and after a fierce struggle overpowered him and turned him over to the police. On the way to the station he fought viciously, but when placed in a cell he calmed down and did not seem to realize what had been done.

When physicians reached the house Mrs. Cawley and Belle were dead. The others were still living, but the doctors thought that they could not live through the day.

washington, Oct. 16.—For a long time this afternoon and again tonight the Fresident discussed the coal-strike situation with members of his Cabinet. After office hours this afternoon Secretary Root, Atty.-Gen. Knox and Postmaster-General Payne came over to the White House and remained with the President until nearly 6 o'clock. Tonight Secretary Root and Mr. Payne were with him for some time. Further than to admit that the coal strike was the subject that brought them together, the members of the Cabinet will not talk except to say that nothing has been done.

will not talk except to say that nothing has been done.

Secretary Root left Washington for New York after the conference with the President. He announced that his object in going was to register, so as to be able to vote at the coming election, but he is fully acquainted with every stap that has been taken by the administration in the coal strike and knows many of the most influential financiers in New York.

Close advisers of the President who have conferred with him said tonight that, in their opinion, there was no further action the administration could take on its own initiative to bring the strike to an end. They scout the idea of a resort to the anti-trust law, and say that no such step is contemplated, as action cannot be had under that measure against the interests involved in the strike.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, which is in session here, decided tonight to appeal to the business men and other sympathisers with the anthracite coal miners for financial aid for the strikers. The suggestion was made that some responsible professional or public man should take the matter in hand and begin a sympathetic campaign for assistance.

Gov. Odell was on his feet in an instant. Holding a half-burned cigar in his hand, and white with excitement, he said: "Are we to understand that no kind of conciliatory proposition will receive consideration at the hands of the operators."

If did not say that, "answered Mr. Baer, "but I do say and I reiterate that we will not accept political advice, or allow the interference of politicians in this, our affair."

Then it was that Gov. Odell made the statement attributed to him at the beginning of this article.

President Baer, evidently appreciating that he had gone too far, bowed to Gov. Odell and said:

"Governor, I beg your pardon. No personal affront was intended, and we will listen to any suggestions you may have to make; but again I repeat that we will listen to any suggestions you may have to make; but again I repeat that we will listen to any suggestions you may have to make; but again I repeat that we must refuse to recognise the union represented by Mr. Mitchell."

"Just this," said Gov. Odell. "I am sure that the labor organisation of which Mr. Mitchell is head desires him to be fair with the general public. "It certainly does," snswered Gov. Odell, quickly, "and there is no reason why you should not."

Baer and Thomas rose to go, Thomas remarking that the matter would be presented to the other operators, and that an early answer would be forth-toming. Baer said: "We are to meet a committee of the Manufacturers' Association on Tuesday, and we may have an answer then."

The conference broke up, Baer and Thomas withdrawing. Sensators Platt, Penrose and Guay talked over the matter for a short time and then separated, the two Pennsylvanians announcing that they would go back to Harrisburg and discuss the situation with Gov. Stone.

Gov. Odell was not in a talking mood when he left the conference. He went of directly to the Fifth Avenue Hotel, and during most of the aftersoon received callers. Mayor Low, Anson G. McCook, Edward Lauterbach, Congressmen Lester and Littauer, and Senator Platt were among his callers. To one of these the Governor said: "The coal operators may postpone this matter, until Tuesday, but I don't proposes to postpone. They are not acting

One large porous brick soaked all night in coal oil will burn brilliantly for over two hours, and if placed in the fire pot of a kitchen range, will furniah sufficient heat to cook a maal. Three or four bricks placed in a heater will warm a house for about three hours. The bricks cap be used as often as desired. Persons who have made the experiment are delighted, and many of them say they shall continue to burn oil in this way in their cooking ranges, even after the coal strike is ended. Each brick has attached to it a plece of wire with a loop so that it may be easily lifted out of the stove. A very porous soft brick will hold almost a quart of oil if allowed to soak all night. One brickyard is making a special porous brick for this purpose.

PASADENA, Oct. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] At this undefined period of the world's history it may seem a work of supererogation to put forward arguments in support of women taking their place on school boards, especially when we remember that about two-thirds of school board teachers are women, while quite half the pupils are girls. Added to this there are the infant boys, who as much as the girls need a woman's influence in legislating for them. The London School Board has recognized long ago the necessity for the presence of women on its board of local managers—it has made a rule that a certain proportion of the members on the boards must be women.

Women naturally understand the needs of children better than men do. Education does not mean book learning alone, but includes the formation of character; thus the friendly intersecurse of the woman member with the woman teacher, allowing as it does opportunities, for discussion of various matters in connection with the children, which for obvious reasons can be much more free than with a male member, forms a strong reason for women sitting on school boards. The teaching on school boards. The teaching of technical subjects which now forms an important part of the education of girls requires a power of en-

HOW THE TIMES TREATS LABOR.

THE LOS ANGELES TIMES regularly pays to its skilled, reliable and aceptable workmen wages that average from $3.75 to $4.50 per day for time work, and from 84 to $5.50 per day for piece work. These rates are higher than are paid by any competing newspaper; and another advance has recently agreed upon. The Times pays larger sums weekly, monthly and yearly than any journal in all the Southwest. Its cash disbursements on this unt between August, 1890, and the end of September, 1901, aggregated $1,007,020.81, and its annual expenditures for labor of all classes, both skilled and unskilled, new average more than $175,000 per year. There never has been any attempt, in any quarter, to deny these specific and telling facts, and the proprietors challenge such denial if made. Not for years has The Times had any trouble with its workmen, who are independent of unions, loyal to their employers and themselves, well satisfied and prosperous. The rols its own business in its own way, subject only to the laws of the land; and no interference with that control can be lawfully or justly made. The result of its fixed policy has proven highly beneficial to all concerned, and the justness and correctness of its course have for years past received public approval in most marked and conspicuous ways, the circulation and advertising patronage of the paper steadily and largely outstripping that

That phrase, which was potent in earlier days, has now been entirely discarded. The essence of a university is to be found in its equipment for work, and in its resident body of professors and students, whose main aims are education and research. University extension, on the other hand, contemplates rather the extending of carting sides of without and succeeded in getting it back. The per cent. That doubtless accounts for the healthfulness of Southern California and our immunity from devastating epidemics. It is well known that the state of the call of the ca

A thousand calls for workers against a hundred pleas to be allowed to work are more mutely eloquent of good times than columns of specious and thoughtful editorials. Real estate men find classified advertisements more peculiarly adapted to their business than any other class. Why this is so cannot be very readily explained, but examination of the files of papers in all sections of the United States show four times as many small ads from real estate men than from any other class. People wanting help or people wanting situations are the next class in line. Reasons for this are more apparent, as but little space is necessary, and not only would larger space be perhaps wasted, but would be beyond the means of many of the advertisers. Doctors and lawyers do not see fit to advertise much in this way. Five lawyers took advantage of last Sunday's "liner" department in The Times: there are between six and seven hundred attorneys in the city.

The opening hare ad in that issue was a long and very serious one, announcing that by "special arrangement, experts had consented to hold an institute at Pasadena, at which owners might be instructed in grading and scoring their stock." The modest fee of $5 was charged to hear the interesting disquisitions on this subject. Half a dozen alluring advertisements were set forth last Sunday showing how to invest from $100 to $10,000 with high interest and positively no chance of loss. PUGILISM. WALCOTT CANNOT FIGHT.

WALCOTT CANNOT FIGHT.

Manager McCarey of the Century
Club received a telegram from Joe Walcott yesterday, saying that he could not fight Johnson here on October fil, because he had broken his arm in his fight with Prank Childs in Chicago on Thursday night. This information was a big disappointment to Manager McCarey, for everything for the fight had practically been aranged.

McCarey lost no time in wiring both George Gardner and Childs, offering them Walcott's place against Johnson and also notified Fred Russell of the chance, and an answer is expected today from some of these fighters, Johnson being willing to meet any of them.
It is barely possible that Jeffries might be induced to agree to stop Johnson in ten rounds on the date arranged, and such a go would be worth looking at. Still, Jeffries has not trained any since his fight with Fizzsimmons.

THE HORSEMEN.

The autumn meeting of the Los Angeles Racing Association, which will start the winter racing in this State, will begin today at Agricultural Park. There are good horses entered in the various races, and the track being the best in the State, the meeting should prove a success. The live stock exhibit and the bench show in connection with the races will furnish a variety of amusement and entertainment for all classes, and for these reasons all tastes should be satisfied.

The racing card covers thirteen days, and six races are scheduled for each day. The card for today is the best one provided, and should certainly draw a big crowd.

In honor of the opening today there will be seven races, two for harness horses, and five for runners. The special features are the Los Angeles Derby at one and one-eighth miles, and the Angelus Hotel purse, at six furiongs. The card in detail, with the entries and weights, is as follows:

In the ring there will be Henry Flitner, Caersar Young, Jones & Eaton and Johnny Humphreys, in addition to several more bookies who are expected here this morning from San Francisco. Nothing but auction pools and mutuals will be sold on the harness races.

Among the jockeys that are expected to be on hand this morning are Lester Reiff. Ransch. See, Tullett, Suilivan, McCarthy and Sheehan, in addition to L. A. Jackson, Rice and the lesser lights already here. Reiff will probably ride Bon Mot in the Derby.

The track has been put in good shape, and should be fast. Further work will be done on it this morning in order to get it as near right as possible. The grounds have been brushed up, the fences whitewashed and the big grand stand thoroughly cleaned, and old-time race-goers will notice the difference in the appearance of the park.

The stock fair held in connection with the races should be interesting in itself, for there will be over 100 show horses of various kinds on exhibition, besides blooded farm animals of different varieties. The bench show has about 150 entries of high-class dogs from all over the Coast, and not a few from the East.

or attairs, or at least to set things right.

Mr. Toland will arrive this morning, and at 1 o'clock this afternoon there will be a meeting of the nineteen Southern California members of the State Executive Committee. They are to devise methods, it is maid, whereby the State campaign will be managed with greater efficiency. It is claimed that when Franklin K. Lane, candidate for Governor, made his recent tour for constable and other minor offices.

The meager attendance at the Lane meeting at Hazard's Pavilion two weeks ago is ascribed to failure of the local members of the State committee to advertise properly, and to make other necessary arrangements.

The mission of Mr. Toland, it is said, is to form an auxiliary State Central committee, with headquarters in Southern California. The Republican tide in this vicinity is "viewed with alarm," and desperate methods are necessary to retain even the normal Democratic vote.

necessary to retain even the normal Democratic vote.

John T. Gaffer, chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee, and member of the State committee, is opposed to the move. Members of the party opposed to Mr. Gaffer's management of the campaign say he does not approve of the plan for the reason that it will deprive him of the prestige which he has enjoyed as nominal leader of the party in the south. They say he has stepped into the place after a long absence, and that his methods are not at all in accord with the views of the rank and file, otherwise the "ancients." They say Mr. Gaffey is too "modern," and that his authority must be reduced if Democracy is to put up a good fight at the November election.

It is represented that the auxiliary committee will take much of the financial burden of the campaign from the shoulders of Mr. Gaffey, and that it will be able to accomplish work that he is unable to perform.

Big Meeting at San Gabriel.

The most unique meeting of the Republican county campaign was held last evening at San Gabriel, when Republican speakers and candidates addressed an audience of more than 150 voters and residents of the old mission town. It was an open-air meeting, held under the mammoth arbor to which cling the tendrils of the famous century-old grapevine that was a thrifty shoot long before the Republican party was born. Good music was furnished and the crowd gave enthusiastic approval of the arguments for party success laid down by the speakers, F. W. Hovey and G. Ray Horton. Among the candidates present were E. W. Camp for Assembly in the Sixtyninth District; O. W. Longdon, for Supervisor, First District; W. A. White, for Sheriff; Ben Ward for Assessor; Mark Jones for Treasurer and W. O. Welch for Tax Collector. Big Meeting at San Gabriel.

Mr. Mattison is well pleased with the prospect of election over James Hanley, his Democratic opponent.

Thomas Pierson, a negro orator of San Francisco, may make a number of addresses at Republican State meetings in Southern California.

The following linerary has been arranged by the Republican State Central Committee for the tour of J. O. Hays and U. S. Webb, candidate for Atterney-General, in Southern California: San Diego, October 18; San Bernardino, October 20; Riverside, October 21; Santa Ana, October 22; Ventura, October 24; Pasadena, October 25.

EXPLOITS OF A. B. ROWAN

MISDEEDS WERE SQUARED.

Company of Young Ladies at Tent City Dance on Charge of Embezzie ment - Complaints Against Miss Clairvoyant.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
SAN DIEGO, Oct. 10.—Facts concerning unlawful exploits here of A. B. Rowan, his arrest, and the setting of embezsled money to prevent prosecution and publicity, have just come to light. It forms a rather interesting criminal story, in view of the young man's good connections, and wide circle of acquaintances. Friends and relatives of the young man, and the police authorities of Los Angeles and San Diego have, up to this time, kept the facts an absolute secret.

Rowan was arrested on a charge of embezslement at Tent City, Goronado, August 2. He passed the night in the following day at noon, by Detective Quiniand of Los Angeles, handcuffed to S. M. Mason, a negro, who was wanted at Pasadena. Rowan was a well-built, fine-looking and well-dressed youth, of pleasing address. Quiniand came down from Los Angeles on the noon train, and secured the services of Detective Cooley. It was supposed that Rowan and a drummer were to take the steamer for Lower California that night. At the boat the drummer was held up, and rather than come back to police headquarters, he stated that Rowan would be found that evening at the dance at Tent City. The drummer said that Rowan had fleeced him, but declined to say for how much.

Rowan was arrested at the floating Casino and at the time was in the company of two respectable young contracted. No complaints were issued here.

Rowan was arrested at the floating Casino and at the time was in the company of two respectable young women. He expressed no supprise at the arrest, confessing his guilt and saying that it was only what he had expected, although he was not anticipating a call from that particular direction. It was understood at the time that Quinland had brought down other the money or the authority for squaring any debts Rowan might have contracted. No complaints were issued here.

July 14 a man giving the name of E. B. Rowan and his residence as San Francisco registered at Hotel Brewster, Landlord Daggett thinks that he was his guest for about two weeks, and that Rowan was selling pickles or something of that sort. He appeared respectable and industrious and was a desirable patron of the house. While Daggett was in the mountains his clerk telephoned him that Rowan's checks had been dishonored and asked if he should cause Rowan's arrest. Daggett gave a negative reply. The checks were for $35.

At the time of the arrest the detective called around to say that a brother of the accused, a Los Angeles real estate dealer, would settle all bills. Daggett sent a statement and in due time a check came for the amount. The books show the cancellation of the bill on August 27.

Many people, mostly young women, are mourning the departure of Mrs. Reed, a clairvoyant, who has been stopping at one of the lodging-houses a few weeks. Complaints by persons who claimed to have been fleeced by her are being filed at police headquarters. One young woman lost $400. While here the madam supported a male consort, said to be her husband.

DISPUTE OVER OIL. A committee of San Diego and National City men and representatives of the local press accompanied the syndicators to the Elliott oil well on the Woodman place at Nestor this afternoon for an investigation. Elliott, however, refused either to close the deal for the forty-acre tract or to allow the party to investigate the proposition. The promoters say they had paid $100 down and were to have till the 24th to pay the balance. To-day they offered Elliott cash down, but wanter became a naturalized Mexican citizen. By the Treaty of Queratario, all the Mexicans in acquired territory became citizens of the United States. Hectorne came back to Texas in 1853, and remained until 1876. He voted in Texas on the ground that he came in with the rest of the Mexicans into citizenship just the same as though he had been a natural-born citizen, instead of a naturalized citizen.

It has been twice held to the contrary in this State. Hectorne tried to register in Fomona several years ago, and was turned down by the District Attorney. He tried again a few days ago, and Deputy District Attorney Wilbur passed upon his case yesterday.

He held that the same question had been decided by the United States Circuit Court in 1858, in the case of Tobin against Walkinshaw. The court held that naturalized citizens did not come within the meaning of the treaty.

The Echo Park and Elysian Heights Improvement Association met last evening at the home of Enno Jahn, No. 1833 Echo Park road, and the most important feature of the session was a discussion of plans for a public celebration upon the completion of the reconstructed car line up Echo Park road from Sunset boulevard to Elysian Park. SENATOR BARD A WELL MAN

Will Be in Washington December First.

Not to Be Frightened Into Resigning.

Going to His Country Estate in Hueneme Next Thursday.

Senator Bard expects to leave Los Angeles on Thursday next for his country home at Hueneme, having recovered to such an extent from his recent severe illness that his physicians agree that he may make the short journey. He is looking forward with pleasant anticipation to the trip and feels that he will derive great benefit from a sojourn of a few weeks on his beautiful and extensive estate in Ventura county.

He is in excellent spirit and his brain is remarkably clear. In fact, there were few intervals during highliness that he was not cheerful and in which he did not manifest an intense interest in the events of the day.

Last Saturday the Senator's condition was so satisfactory that he was removed from his apartments at the Van Nuys Hotel to his city home at No. 57 West Adams street, and since that time he has made daily gains in strength. Not a day has passed that he has not been able to dress and to lounge about the house, and on several occasions he has been taken for carriage drives of an hour's duration.

Business cares have not yet been permitted to cross Senator Bard's mind, although he is anxious to take up the thread of his extensive affairs. Absolute freedom from care has been enjoined by his physicians, and much against his will he has been compelied to refrain from participating in the activities incident to the management of his private and public duties. He has been denied to callers with but few exceptions, but a Times reporter who called at the Adams-street residence yesterday afternoon was greeted cordially by the Senator, who seemed delighted that the embargo on his liberty has been infeed.

"Yes," said the Senator in response to a query, "I'm better, much better. Were it not for the lessitude incident to my long confinement in bed and in my room I should say that I was well. They've been starving me aimpst to death, but now that I am getting pienty of good and substantial food I am gainst in one has pretty lid and that consciousess was heightened by the concern of those who were attending m my country home at Hueneme, where I can stroll in my garden and where I know I shall derive much benefit from the outdoor air. I shall not attempt, however, to transact business of any kind for a month or so. My principal interest is to get well and to return to Washington in time for the opening of Congess in December."

At this point Senator Bard denied that he had ever had any intention of resigning his seat in the Senate. It was clear that he never intended for a moment to be frightened into making a vacancy to be filled by certain political shouls whose aspirations were father to the report that the condition of his height would debar him from again taking up his public duties at the national capital.

"I do not expect to resign," said Senator Bard. "There is no necessity for it, and the thought has never entered my mind.

"A pleasant feature of my illness," he continued, "was the interest which the public was so kind to entertain in my condition. I am exceedingly grateful for it. My sincere thanks are due the people for the concern they manifested."

It was just four weeks ago yesterday people for the concern they manifested."

It was just four weeks ago yesterday that Senator Bard was taken iii at Catalina, where he had gone with Senator Quarles of Wisconsin for a few days' recreation and sport.

While Senator Bard's face and form indicate that he has lost considerable flesh, his eye has lost none of its clearness, and the keenness of his brain is as marked as it ever has been. With a few weeks more of rest it is clear that he will be able to return to Washington at the opening of Congress, to continue the valuable work for California in which he has been engaged since his election in 1900.

WOODMEN TO ENTERTAIN.

Order Has Secured Tabour Circus as This City.

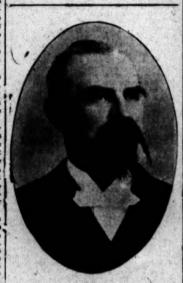

This City.

The Modern Woodmen of America will give a fair at Flesta Park October 18 to 30, and as a principal attraction have secured the Tabour Oriental Carnival Circus and Menagerie Company. The company will be the feature of "The Midway" at the fair and is expected to furnish an entertainment that will warrant the excursion rates granted by the railroads for the occasion in anticipation of the visit of large crowds from surrounding towns. Among the features of the fair will be a Japanese tea garden, in which a continuous vaudeville performance will be given by the troupe of thirty actors. In other parts of the grounds aerialists, acrobats, Arab tumblers, jugglers and balancers will give their various specialties, and a number of startling animal acts are promised in the menagerie. Of the latter performers is a leopard which walks a tight rope; an Algerian girl who holds a lion hunt in the big cage; a man who puts his head in a lion's mouth and then Moving Day for the Two Eastlake Park Bears.

"Ginger" and "Dewey" were overcome with joy yesterday afternoon when their residence was changed from the old log hut in the bourgeoise end of the animal vilinge in Eastlake Park to a swell abode up on the boulevard. The stolid grizzly and the timid cinnamon saw each other for the first time in months and it was like the meeting of long-separated lovers.

"Dewey," the grizzly, danced up and down in his delight and did a cakewalk along the cement floor, much to the edification of "Ginger," who tried to indicate his piessure by buffing "Dewey" through the Iron bars that separate their compartments.

The new mansion of the bears occupies a prominent position on the boulevard next to the California lions. It is about thirty feet long and fifteen deep and is divided into two compartments. In the middle of each is a tree imbedded in the cement floor and on the lopped-off branches of these the

An Impossible Englishman's Many Adventures in Many Lands—Leaves Los Angeles Today in Search of Danger in South America.

Now the subject ceases to be an Antinony Hope drawing, and becomes a sort of Stevenson hero. No funds were left him; all his money had been confiscated by his stollid and thrifty captors. He was promised a passage on a tramp ship, bound for any port which looked promising. On the voyage the captain died, and Capt. Bass age the captain died, and Capt. Bass was compelled to work as a common sailor before the mast. Finally, he brought up safe, but penniless, at Point G'Galle. Ceylon. Here this solder of fortune was favored with success again, and in a few months was bound for home on a first-class liner, with a long purse to the good.

Commercialism and fog and the commonplace became too tame, and in a few months he again resolved to seek his fortune under foreign skies. The latter part of 1896 he left for Spain, and here he saw his first bull fight. The work of the toreador impressed him, and he immediately fell to wondering whether Saxon blood could ever so sunccessfully wield the long rapier and win the plaudits of the dark-eyed senoritas. With him to will was to do, and he immediately entered the bull-fighting school.

February. 1897, completed his course of instruction. In the great Plaza del Toros of Seville, where Escamillo won from Don José the fickle Carmens heart—in this, the acme of matadoric splendor and skill—he made his bow to a critical public. He had come: he had seen; that day he conquered, and Spain applauded the intrepid Englishman-to the echo.

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War he was imprisoned by the fickle populace as a spy, and was sentenced to be shot. He was rescued just in time by the British Consul—all stage heroes are rescued in that way.

He next went into the wilds of Morocco, and, disguised as a Moslem plugrim, went overland from Tangiers to the city of Morocco, the only white man who ever made such a trip.

Mexico was his next attraction, and he purchased a large ranch in the State of Vera Crus. Just to see whether or no his hand had lost its cunning, he again entered the bull ring at Jalapa, with two other accomplished toreros and before an audience of 15,000 persons. He killed the bulls, rescued one of his comrades from death, and was the object of wid and tumultuous applause. The wife of the Alcaide beside herself with excitement, rose in her place and threw at the gailant foreigner

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—The Interstate Grocer will say tomorrow that a com-bination to include every wholesaler of groceries in the United States is in "The details of the great plan are not public property. They will not be until after November I, when the initial steps toward forming the combination will be taken in Detroit. George D. Hanford of New York City is engineering the deal. In a few days the entire wholesale grocery trade in the United States will receive invitations to this meeting. Already a large number of the leading wholesale grocers in the East have been personally seen by Hanford or his representatives, and nearly all of them have expressed a willingness to be present.

"An outline of the plan follows: It is proposed to take over the business of the entire line of wholesale grocers in the United States. One great corporation will be formed, which will buy outright the business and good will of all the firms. A central office for the accommodation of the officers of the company will be determined upon, probably in New York. This central office wil, in all the feading grocery products, do the buying for all the houses of the corporation. It is not proposed that the company go into the manufacturing of grocery products, but rather that the business between the large manufacturers and the company will be through one general office. It is expected that this will enable the company to buy in such large quantities as to greatly reduce the first cost of the goods."

Lands and Purchase for Them a Tract

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

GUTHRIE (Okla.) Oct. 10.—At a special council of the Indian tribes of the Southwest, held in Anadarko. Lone Wolf, who became famous through his many suits against the government, resulting from the opening of the Kiowa-Comanche country to settlement, was today chosen the representative of the Kiowas. Comanches, Apaches, Caddos and Wichitas, to present their request at Washington asking that the government take all their lands in Oklahoma, and purchase for them a tract of 2,000,000 acres in Mexico. This would open to settlement all the Indian allotments in that portion of Oklahoma, Quannah Parker, Lone Wolf, and Exedine, prominent chiefs, are tack of the movement.

They will meet again November 1, when Lone Wolf's report from Washington will be heard. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

(17) And the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of Jebovah stood firm on dry ground in the midst of the Jordan, and all Israel passed over on dry ground, until all the nations were passed clean over the Jordan.

(1.) Notice the prompiness of the people. It meant confidence and courage. Their fathers had been led across a river. Their fathers had reperts of overawing giants in the lead: they have report of a quaking people ready to submit. They had learned to trust Moses: they have reason to trust his great successor. Joshua. The condition of the river has already ben described. Something may be said about the river itself. Its same, "Jordan," means "the Descender." It starts from three streams, one of which he 2200 feet above sea leyel; flows through the Lake Huleh, 90 feet above the sea, on to the Sea of Gallice, 812 feet below sea level; then into the Dead Sea, 1285 feet below sea level; slavy-sig miles, as the crow flies, south of the Saa of Gallice, but 200 miles 20 the tortiquous river runs. It was basiey harvest in the warm, sheltered valley.

(2.) Notice the exact fulfillment of Joshua's words. As soon as the feet of those who carried the ark touched the water, that which was coming down stopped, while that which was below flowed away to the Dead Sea, through the Arabah, or valley, the occumulated waters backed up to the town. Adam, above.

(3.) The faith of the priests was severely tested. They must stand in the middle of the stream soon to the sure of the way God led them across very rapidly.

(4.) We cannot but settee the way they marked the experience-with the memorial stones. Twelve were taken out of the middle of the stream so that in the future days, those stone

Just how this took place no one knows, but it was a miracle, a clear, Indisputable miracle, whether it was wholly miraculous or partly natural. There might have been a land slip, or some volcanic action might have clevated the bed of the river a few feet. In the year 1287, a land slip near that place dammed up the Jordan several hours, and made the lower part dry. Or God's own sheer power might have held back the waters. In any-case, it was the action of God's will, through matural phenomena, bringing on the volcanic action or the land slip, just at that moment, or holding back the water without natural agents.

The instructions were given, the people were ready, and the crossing began.

We are not left in doubt as to what sort of fruits a Christian life should bear. The list, as given by Paul, is one of the passages of Scripture that should be memorized by every Christian. Here we have it, from the American re-vision: "The fruit of the Spirit is Love.

These are the fruits that are expected of every one who professes to yield obedience to the Spirit of God. Morever, it is to be remarked that every one of them is possible to every Christian. No one is toe young or too old or too ignorant or too feeble or too restricted in circumstances to bear these prescribed fruits. There are no imaginable conditions under which a person cannot bear fruit that will be for the glory of God.

Christ says nothing about trees that are only ornamental—except to condemn the tree that hore nothing but Every few days the news columns report the suicide of a man who declares that his life has been a failure. He nurders himself because he thinks he has lived in vain and that his life is no longer profitable to himself or to others. This bitter cry is echoed by many yet living. This is all a mistake. No life need be a failure. God plans success for every one of our lives, and He does His best to help us find that success. There is fruit for each of us to bear, and fruit that can be borne by no other. And the place where God has put us is the very best spot in all the universe for our growth and fruitfulness.

lot, who may not bear fruit that glorify the great God above.

All fruit that is for God's glory is for man's gain.

We live in an ambitious age. Men think large thoughts. They win great fortunes, execute great enterprises, and encompass the universe with their dreams and investigations. We have relegated to the past the old hymn which breathed the aspiration, "Oh to be nothing!" And this is not wrong. It is more in accord with the mind of God for His children to purpose and perform largely. God did not make us, as the crown of His creation and in His image, in order that we might be nothing. He is well pleased when His children show that they have been so touched by His spirit that they think great thoughts after Him. The best Christians are the most ambittious. They greatly dare and greatly endure and greatly do for the glory of God. Like the Master Himself, they love and serve the whole world, and long to see it reconciled to the Father. m. Large Companies Have Resumed Operations—New Wells Going Down— Peerless Lets a New Contract—Late Arrival in Fullerton Field.

Buyers are bidding is cents a barrel for oil in the Kern River field and are having great difficulty in getting any quantity at that figure. The market is growing firm and within the past ten days the general condition of the field has vastly improved. Prices have cdvanced from 12 and 14 cents a barrel to very close to 20 cents, and the demand is now reported to be fully equal to the present production.

H. G. James, who returned yesterday from the northern oil center, toports that many of the large companies have resumed open ion, and it is rumored in the field that the Associated Cill Company will therefly resume drilling on the Reed Crude property. The Eastern Star this week let the contract for five new wells, and the Union, on the Claremont lease, has rigs up for five new wells are also being drilled by the Nevada, which now has eight producers on the string, and the Monte Cristo and Illinois Crude have also resumed operations.

Last week a big producer was brought in by the Steriling, it being well No. 6. From last accounts it is good for 200 barrels a day. This company has been shipping 35,000 barrels of oil a month, the product from five wells on its Kern River property.

From a semi-official source it is learned that the Feerless last week closed a new contract with the Standard for the delivery of 40,000 barrels of oil a month. This company is now delivering large quantities of oil to the Standard under contract. Several new rigs are being put in place and operations will be begin at once.

If the demand for oil continues to increase at the rate of the past ten days the present production soon will be entirely insufficient to meet the requiraments.

Different doctors have different ideas in regard to cures. Some call a suppression of symptoms a cure. They dose for drug effects and claim that nothing more can be done. NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Today's early decline in prices of stocks represented the retreat of the operators, who had bought yesterday under the inspiration of the current rumors of an imminent settlement of the coal strike. The decline carried some bear selling as an incident, and the small raily at the close represented the covering by this room-trading element. The closing was beavy. After the opening selling, the market became wholly professional in its proportions, and the total dealings for the day fell below half a million chares. The fact that this is the eve of a Jewish day was an incidental factor in the growing duliness of the market, and the disposition to close up contracts, so that the market fell into practical stagnation late in the day. The inference is—warranted from this gate of affairs that speculative opinion has settled into a feeling of resignation to a waiting market, pending the relief of the money etringency, or some tanglo-s development indicating the prospect of a settlement of the coal strike with the reasumption of conferences today, and the passing of measengers back and forth from J. SANTA BARBARA MAN RETURNS WITH STRANGE STORY.

Harry Butler Says His Life Was Traveled Clear to New Orleans-Cap Daniels Gets Ovation - Champi

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 10.—It is a strange story that it told by Harry Butler, a local confectioner, who mysteriously disappeared from this city about a month ago and who returned this morning, hollow-eyed and with shaking nerves. Butler says his life was a blank for more than three weeks and Angeles.

For several years Builer has been conducting a confectionery and tobacco store in Santa Barbara, and did a prosperous business. About a month ago he left gord at his place of business that he was going to Los Angeles on a business trip and that he would return within a day or two. Several days passed, and he failed to put in an appearance. Upon investigation, it was learned that he had been seen in Los Angeles shortly after leaving this city, but after that, all trace of him was lost until a week ago, when the secretary of one of the local fraternal so-and says he believes he displayed this in a place where he was given "knock-out" drops. After the first night spent in the city, he says, his movements are a blank. All that he remembers is that he found himself in a small town near New Orleans about two weeks later, without a penny.

When Butler left Santa Barbara, he was heavily involved, having borrowed large sums of money which, it was understood, he took with him. His place of business was attached and afterward his affairs were thrown into the United States Court at Los Angeles under the involuntary bankrupt act. Butler declares that he will soon pay all he owes, which amounts to several thousand dollars.

OLD DOMINION DEVELOPMENTS.

Very little of interest has developed concerning the shut-down of the Old Dominion mine of Globe. Gordon Mc-Lean, a mining expert, formerly with the Phelps, Dodge Company, and Frank H. Probert, a mining engineer of Los Angeles, have been in Globe lately, looking over the Old Dominion properties, in order to report upon the advisability of concentration of the low-grade ores before smelting, and of bettering and cheapening the present methods of reduction. Most of the discharged miners have left the camp. It is understood that the Old Dominion company has reached an amicable agreement with the Glia Valley, Globe and Northern Railway on freight rates, and there is little doubt that the mines will be started again as soon as the company is assured of a satisfactory settlement of the labor question.

AROUND BISBEE'S CAMP.

The new hoisting works of the Calomet and Arizona mine, at Bisbee, are to be the finest in the district, even superior to the magnificent hoist on the Spray shaft of the Copper Queen Company. The Bisbee Railroad has constructed a spur up the hillside to the Calumet and Arizona shaft, and preparations are being completed for the prompt delivery of all the ore that the new reduction works at Dougias can handle. The mine is developing into a wonderful bonanza, and the indications are that the company will eventually have as extensive workings as even the Copper Queen.

The Bisbee stockholders in the South Bisbee mine, are still warring with the Los Angeles management, and still refuse to accept, their management.

Horse and Mules Have Thrived on Fetch High Prices.

The experiment undertaken by Arbuckle Bros. of Brooklyn in the way of feeding horses on molasses caused little surprise here. Molasses has for two years been in general use in Louisiana for the feeding of horses, mules and all stock, and probably nine-tenths of the draught animals in the sugar district get this food either alone or mixed with oats or corn.

The animals like it, and are kept in splendid condition by it. "Sugar mules," which are fed on molasses mainly, are worth from 20 to 25 per cent, more than the mules on cotton plantations, which are fed enersally on cotton seed and cotton-seed meal.

Molasses has been a waste product in Louislana ever since the improved processes in the manufacture of sugar have extracted more of the saccharine from it than formerly. It has been a problem how to get rid of it. The discovery therefore that it could be used as a food for stock was of double value. Six months ago a factory was srected for the manufacture of cattle food from molasses. The process is wery simple.

The molasses is mixed with corn or and dried and then ground into a fine powder.

It is like the cotton-seed meal with which cattle and horses are fed throughout the world. The horses mules and cattle are very fond of the molasses, and they do better on it than on any other food fed to them. They keep fat and are capable of extraordinary work in hauling heavy loads.

This one factory turns out 150 tons of molasses preparation a day, and the stuff is being rapidly substituted on the plantations for the raw molasses, not because it is any better, but because it is more conveniently handled.

So far the use of molasses for feeding

Last night he gave a private rehearsal in the Methodist Church. Most of the views have been taken by himself and are excellent portrayals of city and country life. Los Angeles naturally is accorded a large share of his lecture, some excellent views having been furnished by the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Brown is an eloquent lecturer, and his description of the various scenes is vivid but devoid of exagnishment.

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 10.—Another mystery has been brought from the depths of the sea here. While fishing off the south end of the wharf of the Kerck-hoff-Cusner Lumber Company Wednesday morning. J. S. Phillips's line was fastened to what he first thought to be a large fish, but which afterward proved to be the bony remnants of an infant's arm. The bone appeared to have been broken near the shoulder and it may be that the complete skeleton of the child is still in the water. Phillips, who is a druggist, says there can be no mistake as to the bone being that of the arm of a once live infant." "Judging from its size and general appearance," he said, "I hardly think the child could have been more than six or eight months of age."

As told by Phillips, the facts suggest that perhaps a foul tragedy lies behind the discovery of this bone. He says that it had not long been in the water, as the wrist-bone still clung to it, and there were traces of fiesh to be seen between the joints. The movement at the elbow was free and easy, and with the exception of a slight tarnish caused by sait water, the bone was clean and tender. Phillips says he believes if a drag is made the remainder of the body will be found.

ENTHUSIASM FOR REPUBLICANS.
MONROVIA, Oct. 10.—An enthusiastic Republican raily was held at the operahouse last evening, attended by a large crowd. The meeting was pre-ceded by the booming of anvils and the burning of red fire. Several of the county candidates were present, and were introduced by the chairman, W. A. Walker. Their remarks were brief, the main speach of the evening being given by James McLachlan, candidate for reflection to Congress from this district. The speaker, in a convincing manner showed the difference in the prosperity of the country under Democratic rule, from 182 to 1826, and since the manusuration of McKinley. He touched upon the trusts, and said that it was not a political, but a great economic question, and could not be solved by the proposed Democratic remedy, which was to take off the tar-iff. A. Walker. Their remarks were brief,
